RECEPTION TO NEW TEACHERS

The Canal Point Parent-Teachers Association entertained the teachers of the Canal Point and Pahokee schools at the Canal Point auditorium Friday night September 19.

After the introduction of the teachers by Prof. E. E. Bland, Rev. R. E. Stars of the Canal Point Methodist church, gave a short talk.

About sixty-five or seventy guests were present and all enjoyed the following program:

1. Piano selection, Miss Margaret York.
2. Vocal solo, Mrs. E. A. Bass.
3. Musical reading, Mrs. E. P. Parker.
4. Musical quartet, The Man That Delivers the Goods, My Bonnie.
5. Mixed quartet, Old New England Moon, When It's Moonlight on the Colorado.

After the program a game "Getting Acquainted" was played by all. The game was played during the social half hour which followed.

The association wishes to thank those on the program who helped to make the evening a pleasant one for all.

SCOUT TROOP RE-ORGANIZES

The Canal Point Boy Scouts Troop No. 94, met Tuesday night for the purpose of re-organization. A session of the past year's work was made. Plans were made for the ensuing year.

Scoutmaster Chaffee discussed the subject of thrift. Mr. Cox urged the boys to make plans for passing the second class tests on a hike which the troop plans to make in the very near future.

Among the charter members present were: Harold Taylor, Smiddy Winn, Richard Walker, and Gordon Vann. (Gordon Vann was elected scoutmaster.)

Scoutmaster Chaffee was elected pilot leader. B. A. Geiger has been appointed to the troop to become a Scout. Robert Stars, a Scout in Lawley, Fla., will transfer to this troop.

Rev. R. E. Stars, who was scoutmaster of the Lawley troop, attended the meeting as a visitor. Rev. Stars is much interested in the Scout movement.

For the present the Scouts are meeting at the school house, as the house the sugar company gave up was damaged this summer.

GORDON VANN, Scribe.

POST CARD VIEW

A picture of the teachers building at Canal Point has been placed on the back of post cards on sale at A. Milliken's Canal Point drug store.

Hiram Lawrence, deputy sheriff, was out from West Palm Beach yesterday.

Believe Loans Made to Sugar Co. Officers

Officers of the Southern Sugar Company were borrowers from the Bank of Canal Point, it is being said in Canal Point and West Palm Beach.

When the bank closed an officer of the bank was quoted in West Palm Beach daily papers as saying that the sugar company was not a borrower. By the new version that statement was technically correct but wrong in its implication.

No demand for the payment of notes in the bank of Canal Point has been made on residents of Canal Point by the liquidator. When the demand is made, some of the bank and the officers of the sugar company have paid their notes.

Hughlett and Jack Mahan left Saturday. Boulder dam being the first, however, to Norfolk, Va. They will visit their brother, who they have not seen for five years.

REPORT OF RUST PROBABLY WRONG

Rust is reported to be showing in a bean field in Pahokee district. The report probably is in error, for if it really was rust, it would by now have taken the whole field—it works that fast. Rust is caused by teeny weeny things that are floating in the air all the time, called spores. It does not do any good to fight rust after it appears. Spraying the vines early in the morning closes the pores in the leaves and kills the spores. Good growing, regular, regular, in advance of rust.

MASONIC MEETING

Change in the meeting place of Everglades Lodge, No. 211, F. & A. M., was effected at Pahokee Thursday night when members met at the Pahokee grade school for the first time since the 1929 storm damaged the building and forced the lodge into other temporary quarters.

Members of the lodge cleaned out the attic quarters, and the lodge members moved into the new quarters. The lodge is now meeting at the grade school, 111 S. W. M. and members of the lodge are invited to attend meetings in the new quarters.

Varying Opinions as to "Books All Should Have"

There is a house in Cuba which bears the intriguing name, "The House of the Nine Books." The nine books are those which the occupiers' opinion, ought to be in every home.

They are the Bible, Plato's "The Republic," Homer, Horace, "The Arabian Nights," Dante's "Divine Comedy," "Don Quixote," Shakespeare, and Grimm's "Fairytale Compendium."

This is an interesting list, but how many people will agree with it? Many of us would not include Milton for Horace; and if Grimm is included for the children's benefit, what about Hans Andersen for a better choice?

But no two people would make the same list. What would you say were the nine books that ought to be in every home? Write them down and ask your friends to do the same, and you will be amazed to find the variety of the titles, and also at the way in which some of them occur in every or almost every list—London Answers.

Friend of the Helpless

Matthew Haughey, after being left an orphan and later losing his father, was a boy who was a "hunger" in a hotel in New Orleans. He spent part of every day visiting the orphanage and taking food to them. No second this for him. Later he established a hotel and bakery which were very successful.

The money which he made he spent for her orphans. Through her generosity three large orphan homes were erected in New Orleans, besides a home for the aged and blind. The status of her orphan home in New Orleans is said to be the first status of a woman ever given in the United States.

Famous Pair of Friends

Damon and Pythias lived in the fourth century B. C. Damon, a Pythagorean of Syracuse, was celebrated for his friendship with Pythias, or Phidias, a member of the same sect. Pythias plotted against the life of Dionysius, king of Syracuse, and was condemned to death.

Pythias wished to arrange his affairs. Damon offered to place himself in the tyrant's hands as his surety, and to die in his stead should he not return on the appointed day. At the last moment Pythias came back and Dionysius was so struck by the fidelity of the friends that he pardoned the offender and begged to be admitted into their fellowship.

Assemblies of Bards

The word "bard" (from the Welsh "bard," to sing) is a name applied generally in Wales to any meeting or concourse of people, but more particularly to the assemblies, which were held by the bards, who were the poets of the nation, and who were the keepers of the nation's history.

These meetings were held in the open air, and the bards were the only ones who were allowed to speak. They were held during the winter months, and the bards were the only ones who were allowed to speak.

A Prompt Suggestion

"What can I do?" roared the fiery "ranger" during a demonstration, "when I see my country going to ruin, what I can do is to express my opinion to the world, and to let the black clouds of ignorance and darkness be dispelled by the light of truth."

"What can I do?" asked the audience. "What can I do?" asked the audience. "What can I do?" asked the audience.

M. D. Carmichael's farm north of Canal Point was the subject this week of a write-up in the Palm Beach Post. The property is referred to by Mr. Carmichael as a "ranch" and is the only land in this trucking region that is so

MORE RADIO SETS

With the return of residents from vacation and the coming of cooler weather, radio sets are being installed quite generally.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

The automobile accidents of the week include a smash-up near Mr. Tracey's on Canals highway north of Canal Point, and a collision yesterday to a school girl at Pahokee.

HOW TO FIGHT LEAF HOPPER, ROLLER

Bean growers will have trouble with the leaf-hopper and the leaf roller if they do not take precaution.

These insects, according to A. W. Tinsol, assistant entomologist at the Florida experiment station, can be practically kept out of the field by a fallow strip around it.

Plowing or discing, followed by cultivation to keep down weeds, will serve. The beans should be planted frequently, so that the free of weeds and grass will keep them from being killed by the pests.

Beans cannot be killed with poisons and contact sprays must be used. It may be used alone, with a sprayer, or with bordeaux. The nicotine washes are not so good, but may be repeated at about weekly intervals. The adult leaf roller is the most dangerous pest.

The caterpillar can be killed with arsenate of lead. To 50 gallons of the spray for the leaf hopper add three-fourths pound of arsenate of lead, or dust the plants with arsenate of lead. A mixture of water mixed with 10 to 15 pounds of hydrated lime. Beans should not be sprayed with arsenate of lead later than a week or 10 days before picking, unless they are to be thoroughly washed, as arsenate of lead is poisonous to man.

Keep Old Name of Coin

The current French-Canadian word for a "dollar" is still the "piastre," an ancient French coin, worth ten francs, and still continually used in some parts of France in buying and selling horses.

Negro Babies

The "Negro babies" give the typical African his dark color and do not develop fully for several weeks after birth. Newborn infants of this race are usually reddish chocolate or copper in color.

Snake's Meek Infrequent

The great constrictors such as the python and boa take a long time to kill and prepare a meal and longer to swallow it. Digestion does not go on for many days, and even in a country full of game, a constrictor does not kill more than once a month.

AIRCRAFT TROUBLES

Things are not going well with the manufacturers of airplanes, as is suggested by the fact that the Curtiss-Wright Corporation lost $100,000 in six months and the circumstances that factors of two or three other companies have been shut down and some flying fields have been abandoned.

Shortly before his death the late Glenn H. Curtiss said to the editor of the Everglades News that he was not sanguine about the immediate future of the airplane industry, thus explaining that he had been going some of his time to the design of a new automobile.

As the practical flying speed of an airplane was now much above 125 miles an hour and cars made nearly half that speed, the airplane was a good deal more than a toy, and was to get to and from landing fields, and the use of an automobile was required at both ends of an airplane trip, the traveler might as well make the entire trip in an automobile. The occasion when this condition did not prevail were so rare, he said, as to be sufficient in number to open a wide field to the airplane industry.

Oil men in the west gave no support to the use of airplanes in the region through the existence of conditions that do not prevail elsewhere, for any spot on the broad prairie was a good flying field, and in the absence of railroads or highways to the new fields, the airplane was the only possible conveyance. Oil men are always millionaires, anyway, and during it. Elsewhere the chief merit in the use of an airplane was its novelty and its publicity value; now that the airplane has no novelty it has no value as a means of personal or promotion publicity. If speed is desired in the transaction of business, that requirement is well met by the facilities tendered by the telephone and telegraph companies, and if voice-to-voice contact is not enough, the television set is soon to provide face-to-face contact. It is not clear what service is to be performed by the airplane industry that is not performed better and more economically by other industries.

In Florida cities where it is proposed that bonds be voted for municipal airports the taxpayers may well pause to consider whether the investment is wise.

COMMUNITY GOSSIP

A fellow named Merritt came from Plant City Monday, having heard that a brother-in-law of the Stuckeys was to have some new crop Houslet beans to pick this week. He set in motion more than he had in a long time, bringing—this Mr. Merritt did, for he brought along a lot of silver dollars, but that paper money that is called silver certificates, but not honest to goodness dollars that you can weigh in your hand. He bought some beans and paid for them in silver dollars. When he put that kind of money into circulation he put a lot of other things in motion, too.

It doesn't take much imagination to allow one to follow in his mind how those cart-wheels rolled. The colored bean pickers got some of the dollars, and think of the variety of places a negro's dollar goes and where it winds up. It goes to no class of people, but no class of people in the whole region that the negro's dollar does not reach. It goes to the poor, as it is spent foolishly, it buys necessities and luxuries, it visits craps and gambling houses, it is dropped into a hat when the hat is passed for charity; it pays the grocer, it buys cocaine or blue tickets; it pays a drunken negro's fine or it buys a drunken negro's shoes and vest. Children have shoes and vests now, because it takes money from hand to hand, through all kinds of hands, and it is in motion, and it is dirty ones. It starts a laugh or stifles a sob; it stifles a laugh and starts a sob. The American silver dollar was a Spanish coin that Florida knew before the American dollar, formed the American government, a coin that lured serfs and aristocrats from Europe, and over the Spanish Main, where pirates cut throats that they might possess the white metal and use it in motion, do hundreds of years ago in Cuba, seaports what it does in the Everglades in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty.

The silver dollar is the poor man's money, and when it is working it is a sign that working people are working and have money. The dollar of our daddies is a venerable and beloved coin. "We had good times when we had it, silver—long time ago." Reappearance of the silver dollar in Canal Point is a sign good times are coming back.

George Nideau has bought one of the new model Ford trucks from B. Elliott. That is another consequence of the new season crop. It represents a permanent addition to the community capital, another cog in the machinery of production and distribution. During the season several persons will make enough money that they can buy tools and put up dwelling houses. This the country will grow. Somebody always "lits" no season is ever so bad but that some money is made and not retained here. Presently there will be a big season when everybody will make money—just a lucky break, of course, but it will be the upper grades for solidity and permanence.

Finding Trouble

It is true the man who is looking for trouble can always find it, but the man who isn't looking for it occasionally stumbles into it, too. That is why it isn't always wise to trust altogether to luck.

Tortures of Imagination

The brightest people have imagination, but they pay for it by becoming, many troubles that never come.

AIRPLANE BUILT BY EVERGLADER

Miss Emmie Keyes, staff writer on the Palm Beach Post, visited the Everglades and Canal Point Friday of last week and photographed for articles about this section. In addition to a general story about conditions on Everglades, she wrote of Z. A. Geiger's airplane.

The airplane story follows: The ambition of Z. A. Geiger of Canal Point, to be the first amateur aviator in this section of the country to fly his own, hand-made airplane received a backset of probably two months, when he wrecked his machine's wing while taxiing this week.

"Since April, Geiger, student aviator, has been at work on the stupendous task of making his own personal flying machine. It was his desire to build up his flying time and hasten the possibility of his becoming a transport flyer that actuated him in this undertaking. Owing to the distance to West Palm Beach and the expense of flights, he decided that it would be cheaper to build a practice machine about $650 to $700.

"After months of work at odd hours, Geiger decided to try out the motor at a make-shift airport near Port Mayaca one afternoon this past week. The Ford Model A motor, which he had bought from an aviator taxiing along, but the machine accidentally ran between two trees, ripping the wing and damaging the structure. The aviator was unhurt.

"Undeterred, Geiger is preparing to rebuild the wing, which has 10 ribs of 50 poles each, the wire structure being covered with aluminum cloth. The machine is a monoplane, with a two-blade propeller and a cockpit holding only the pilot. The wing is 28½ feet and the entire structure weighs 350 pounds without the motor. It will carry nine and a half gallons of gasoline and should stay aloft three hours. The airplane tires are 24½.

"Application has been made by the builder to the government for an identification mark, and as soon as this is received and the wing is repaired, Geiger plans to fly the plane a try-out. His experience in assembling planes at an airport in Little Rock, Ark., was utilized as a working basis for his construction of his plane, which was made according to a blue-print plan. Geiger has received flying instruction at the Roosevelt Field. For many years he has worked as an automobile mechanic.

"Z. A. Geiger, Jr., the aviator's 12-year old son, has inherited his father's mechanical turn of mind and after working on an automobile and boat of his own construction, has been at work adding his father on the airplane."

Earliest Leaves

The first leaves built at New Orleans were begun in 1717. Only small earthen levees of from 4 to 6 feet in height were then necessary to confine the river at flood time.

America's Venice

The term "Venice of America" is frequently used to describe the Thousand Islands, lying between Canada and New York in an extension of the St. Lawrence river.

Little Changed by Time

The dividing line of the French and English languages in Belgium has hardly changed a mile in 1,000 years. One town, Namur, in the province of Hainaut, is entirely bilingual.

EXTRA VALUE WITHOUT EXTRA COST

THE constant effort of the Ford Motor Company is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without increase in price—frequently at lower price. This applies not only to the manufacture of the car, but to many other important factors that concern its usefulness to millions of people.

Because the Ford is made economically, distributed economically, serviced economically—and because it runs economically—it is a value far above the price you pay. Among its outstanding features are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windows, shield, bumper, steel, five steel-spike wheels, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, large number of ball and roller bearings, the extensive use of fine steel forgings and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

FLORIDA PRODUCTS

WHITHIN this immediate section, there are many industries operating at less than 10% capacity, producing products in many respects far superior to those imported and consumed by our own people.

BUY FLORIDA PRODUCTS

This waste of capital investment and idleness of plant, equipment, and employees, is largely due to the fact that the merchants and consuming public are not themselves thoroughly sold on their own products and industry.

BUY FLORIDA PRODUCTS

Florida produces annually over $127,000,000 worth of dairy, poultry, feed, and meat products, and many millions of dollars in other goods which Florida is capable of producing and exporting instead of importing.

BUY FLORIDA PRODUCTS

It is within the power of the people of this section to start the ball of business activity rolling by insisting upon Florida grown and Florida made products. If the merchants and the buying public will give preference to Florida made cigars, beverages, candy, ice cream, canned goods, vinegar, soap, dress goods, golf balls, furniture, mattresses, brooms, building materials, drainage pipe, tile, etc., it will have a marked effect in lessening unemployment and hastening the prosperity of our entire State.

BELLE GLADE

The members of the class at Belle Glade in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, who passed the examination given at the end of the course, received their certificates this week. They are Mrs. W. R. Hooker, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. J. Morris, Mrs. W. W. Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Bessant and Mrs. J. R. Hoch.

M. Louis Belmonte, M. Harvey, James Taylor and J. H. Pate made a business trip to West Palm Beach Wednesday.

Postmaster George Farnham was a business visitor in Jacksonville last week, returning Sunday. Lettie Lee Stuart assisted in the post office during his absence.

There was a good attendance at the Home Demonstration Club which met with Mrs. J. P. McEwen Thursday. Mrs. Edith Y. Barrus is away on her vacation, but a round table talk on garden and ornamental plants to be planted at this time of year, proved interesting and helpful. Special emphasis was put upon plants which stand tests of water. It was decided to ask Mrs. Lottie Depew of West Palm Beach to conduct a class of basketry here. At the close of the business session delicious home-made cookies and punch were served by the hostess. Those attending were Mrs. E. W. Stallings, Mrs. A. M. Webster, Mrs. J. O. Darden, Mrs. J. C. Brown, Mrs. C. O. Webster, Miss Olive Welch, Mrs. H. R. Hooker, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. J. Morris, Mrs. E. N. Brown, Mrs. C. E. Tedder, Mrs. C. E. Reidel, Mrs. Bryant McLendon, Mrs. Joe Chert, Mrs. J. R. Hoch and Mrs. Fritz Stein.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Brierly and daughter Edith of Miami were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hoch.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Coble spent Sunday with relatives in West Palm Beach. Their niece, Frances, returned with them to spend a week.

Dorothy Hooker, who has spent more than a year with relatives in Virginia, has returned to her home in Chosen.

Mrs. J. P. McKewen gave a party for Bihvel Friday afternoon, celebrating his seventh birthday. Games and tasty refreshments furnished a good time for the following guests: George Wendell, Clara Bertha Betzner, Howard Morris, Bob Greer, Robert Jones, Ellison Brown, Sarah Eggleston, Vada Hoch, Juana Bessant and Daniel LeVern. The little host received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McLendon spent the week end in Miami with Mrs. McLendon's mother, Mrs. H. E. Shepherd. Their daughter Joyce who had spent the previous week with her grandmother, returned with them.

Miss Bertel McEwen has decided to go to Lake Worth for her senior year of high school.

Mrs. H. C. Stuart and Betty Jones have just returned from Stuart, where they made the acquaintance of the new baby in the home of Mrs. H. J. Green, who is Mrs. Stuart's daughter.

Representatives from Clewiston, Shawano, South Bay and Belle Glade attended the meeting at Upper Glades Garden Club at the Lejon last Monday. This meeting was called by the president, Mrs. Wm. J. Buck, to determine the possibilities of maintaining a co-operative market of vegetables and flowers at West Palm Beach during the coming season. There were twenty-five ladies present and the prevailing opinion seemed to be in favor of maintaining this market. Detailed plans will be announced later.

Mrs. Blanche Hamilton has returned from her two weeks' visit in Orlando.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Tedder spent Tuesday night in West Palm Beach. Mrs. W. H. Badger and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Badger returned from a vacation in New Hampshire. They report a most enjoyable vacation and Mrs. W. H. Badger is very much benefited in health.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reidel and Mrs. Allen Reed made a business trip to Jacksonville Monday and Tuesday night. Mrs. Reed is now located in East Galtie with her family. Mr. Reed has a similar position with the same firm and states that they like their new location. Mr. and Mrs. Mather will be in the city for a few days. "On the bag—and in it"

LIKE the seal on a bond or the signature on a check, V-C fertilizers have a "V" mark means "Good V-C fertilizers pay face value in full."

Demand high value high analysis—and in a V-C fertilizer, the very best that economy and experience analysis. In all V-C fertilizers, whether low analysis or high, honest values are blended most carefully and every value is there.

A name—Virginia-Carolina Chemical Corporation. But what a good name! No wonder you welcome it on a V-C bag, for you know that name is inside too.

SOUTH BAY

Frank Franz and son Everett spent the week end in Miami in order to attend church services, returning Sunday morning.

C. P. Denton and family moved into the Crocker building last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Allen and family accompanied by Lillian Walker motored to West Palm Beach Sunday. With them were Mrs. Tom Graham and family. While there the two families went on a beach party and went in surf bathing, where Mrs. Allen was so unfortunate as to cut her foot on a shell with painful consequences.

James Dean, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dean, has been very ill this last week with a high fever.

G. Z. Barrow and son Good bread are two South Bay farmers who are picking beans this week. These are the first beans to be harvested in this area this fall.

James Mather, who was the resident engineer for this drainage district, has been ordered to leave the district. Mr. Mather has a similar position with the same firm and states that they like their new location. Mr. and Mrs. Mather will be in the city for a few days. Lucile Smith of the Lake Worth Herald jumped on me with both feet a few months ago and said the voters ought to go after me with hammer and tongs because I voted for an additional tax on gasoline and enforcement of the personal property tax on automobiles instead of supporting a general sales tax. Our friend W. E. Menoher, a Lake Worth real estate man, followed her lead and tried to read me a lecture. I suspect that Lucile and W. E. know more about the subject now than they did when they tried to intimidate me. Both of them kept very quiet when I had a chance to reply to the Menoher's General Association and tax agent for the Philippines, took up the fight for the sales tax and got his essay printed in the Lake Worth Herald and the Palm Beach Post and he came out to Canal Point and undertook to construct a political empire the science of government and practical politics.

While these advocates of the sales tax were so vocal I held to the point that it was impracticable to have a point of being politically impossible.

Secretary Williams made this imposing listing of all the people who were in favor of the five percent sales tax. The list included Mayor Simpson of Palm Beach and Boston, the Lake Worth Herald and the Palm Beach Post, County Assessor Owens, County Tax Collector O'Bannon, Sheriff Baker—"all the boys at the court house."

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

My opposition to a state law for a general sales tax for the benefit of municipal bonds had no other basis than a conviction that it could not be put into effect, and the failure of the attempt to apply it in West Palm Beach is a striking illustration of what I believe will happen in the legislature if an attempt is made to pass a bill of that character there.

Lucile Smith of the Lake Worth Herald jumped on me with both feet a few months ago and said the voters ought to go after me with hammer and tongs because I voted for an additional tax on gasoline and enforcement of the personal property tax on automobiles instead of supporting a general sales tax. Our friend W. E. Menoher, a Lake Worth real estate man, followed her lead and tried to read me a lecture. I suspect that Lucile and W.
